

Jay Haley, PhD, was professor at the California School of Professional Psychology, Alliant International University. He has been professor at Stanford University, Howard University, and the University of Maryland. He was widely acclaimed as a pioneering therapist, master teacher, the chief architect of strategic therapy, and one of the founders of family therapy. He was the author of 21 books and more than 100 papers translated into 15 languages. He was director of training at the Philadelphia Child Guidance Clinic, co-founder of the Family Therapy Institute in Washington DC, and founder of Family Process, the basic journal in the field. Dr Jay Haley passed away in 2007.

Jay Haley (From « Directive Family Therapy » by J. Haley and Madeleine Richport-Haley, the Haworth Press, New-York 2007).